CHILDREN OF THE DAY

The Holy Spirit shines bright through you. Grocery shopping, strolling through a park, grabbing coffee—you are never without His light. The New Testament believers carried the Spirit of God as they walked along the shores of Thessalonica, just as you carry that light today.

Join us on Tuesdays, beginning January 13th, Room 203, 10AM, as we study 1 & 2 Thessalonians with Beth Moore in this 9-session study.

"You are all children of the light and children of the day. We do not belong to the night or to the darkness" 1 Thessalonians 5:5

Baptism of the Lord

♦ January 11, 2015 ♦

A lay-minister acquaintance of mine keeps a framed copy of his baptismal certificate on his office wall. He says, “My diplomas show that I’ve learned a lot of things about theology, liturgy, and Scripture. That’s great, but my experience of Christ and my call to ministry come out of my baptism, and I need to remind myself of that every now and then.”

I was intrigued by his words. Baptism is the initiation into a community whose sole purpose is to worship and serve the Lord using the gifts God has given us. Most of us were baptized as infants, and we rarely take the time to reflect on what we’re called to do by God.

In baptism, we’re given the grace to live a transformed life following the commandments to love God and neighbor. How many times have we fallen short and needed to reconcile with God?

Mark’s story of Jesus’ baptism is a scant four verses. Jesus is baptized and hears God tell him, “You are my beloved Son.” After that, Jesus prevails against temptation and sets about his own mission without looking back. Our baptism gives us the grace to do the same, whatever mission we are called to.

Two good spiritual exercises for this week would be to ask God whether we’re doing what he has asked of us and to reflect on the ways in which our lives have brought us closer to God or taken us away from him.

Then it’s up to us to continue to serve God in the grace of baptism and in the company of the people who share this faith with us.
